8. HP recommends that the number of pages per month of imaged output be within the stated range for optimum device performance, based on factors including supplies replacement intervals and device life over an extended warranty period. 9. Duty cycle is defined as the maximum number of pages per month of imaged output. This value provides a comparison of product robustness in relation to other HP LaserJet or HP Colour LaserJet devices, and enables appropriate deployment of printers and MFPs to satisfy the demands of connected individuals or groups. 10. For detailed information, please refer to datasheets. 11. Onsite warranty is only application for Peninsular Malaysia. For East Malaysia, end user needs to send back the defective unit to HP Service Center / appointed HP Exchange Point.

This value provides a comparison of product robustness in relation to other HP LaserJet or HP Color LaserJet devices, and enables appropriate deployment of printers and MFPS. 3: HP recommends that the number of printed pages per month be within the stated range for optimum device performance, based on factors including supplies replacement intervals and device life over an extended warranty period. 4: Declared yield values for replacement cartridges in accordance with ISO/IEC 19798. Actual yields vary considerably based on images printed and other factors. For more information, visit hp.com/go/learnaboutsupplies. 5: For both Ready and PowerSave modes. Figure is approximate for typical office documents and may vary according to system or network configuration and document complexity. 6: Exact speed varies depending on the system configuration, software application, driver and document complexity. 7: For in-depth details, please refer to datasheets. 8: Onsite warranty is only application for Peninsular Malaysia. For East Malaysia, end user needs to send back the defective unit to HP Service Center / appointed HP Exchange Point.
